4. Cancellation and Specification of the Payment Order

4.1. Recipient has not received the Payment (only for cash pickup transfers). If funds have already been debited from the correspondent account of Paysera and/or a message about the Payment order has already been sent to the Provider of payment services of the Recipient or the Intermediary bank, Paysera informs the Provider of payment services of the Recipient or the Intermediary bank respectively about the Specification, but does not undertake the responsibility for the execution of the Specification, i.e. in this case execution of the Specification depends on the requirements of the Provider of payment services of the Recipient or the Intermediary bank and agreement of the Recipient.

4.3. In the case of a European payment order, the Specification cannot be submitted. If the Payer submits such Specification, Paysera will not have to accept and/or execute it.

5. Fees

5.1. For execution, Cancellation, and Specification of the Payment order and also for other services provided and other operations executed by Paysera, the Payer pays fees set in the Pricing and valid at the moment of the provision of the Paysera service or execution of the operation, except for the exceptions provided for in the agreements concluded by Paysera with the Intermediary Bank or the Recipient's Payment Service Provider. Fees are paid under the procedure and within terms set forth in the General Agreement by debiting them from the Account. The Payer grants Paysera the right to debit fees indicated in the present clause also from other Accounts of the Payer under the procedure set forth in the General Agreement without a separate request from the Payer.

5.2. According to options indicated in the Pricing and under the procedure set forth in clause 6.3 of the present Conditions, the Payer has the right to indicate who has to pay fees applied by Paysera, the Intermediary bank, and the Provider of payment services of the Recipient for the execution of the Payment order: partly the Payer and the Recipient or only the Payer.

5.3. If the Payer pays for fees charged by the Intermediary bank and the Provider of payment services of the Recipient, but the amount of money paid by the Payer for the execution of the Payment order does not cover all fees of the Intermediary bank and the Provider of payment services of the Recipient related to the execution of the Payment order, the Payer gives Paysera the right to debit the difference between the fees charged by the Intermediary bank and the Provider of payment services of the Recipient and the fee paid to Paysera from the Account and/or another account(s) of the Payer opened by Paysera under the procedure set forth in the General Agreement concluded with Paysera, without a separate order of the Payer.

5.4. If the Payment order is returned due to reasons beyond the control of Paysera (e.g. due to the fault of the Recipient's payment service provider, the Payer or the Bank's intermediary, inaccurate or incomplete data provided in the Payment order etc.), the amount of money indicated in the Payment order is returned to the Account, whereas fees paid by the Payer are not returned and/or the fine for delay of execution of the Payment order is not paid, and all costs related to the return of the funds are debited from the Account, except for the exceptions provided for in the agreements concluded by Paysera with the Bank Intermediary or the Recipient's Payment Service Provider.

6. Filling in the Payment Order

If the transfer is performed in a currency of a Member country to an account in a Foreign country or in the currency of a Foreign country, the Recipient shall also pay fees of the Intermediary bank which may be deducted from the amount transferred to the Recipient. The present payment option is mandatory when the transfer is performed in the currency of a Member country to an account in a Member country;

6.3.2. if the Payer selects to pay all fees (OUR), the Payer pays fees charged by Paysera, the Intermediary bank, and/or the Provider of payment services of the Recipient, which are debited from the Account. Paysera does not undertake the responsibility if the Intermediary bank and/or the Provider of payment services of the Recipient do not comply with the instructions of Paysera or due to some other reasons beyond the control of Paysera and the amount specified in the Payment order is not credited (paid out) to the Recipient's account in full. The present payment option shall be selected only if the transfer is executed in a currency of a Member country to an account in a Foreign country or in the currency of a Foreign country;

6.3.3. if the Payer selects neither of the options, it is considered that the fees of Paysera, the Intermediary bank, and/or the Provider of Payment services of the Recipient are split between the Payer and the Recipient (SHA).

6.4. In the field "Transfer type" the Payer indicates the payment type according to options indicated in the Pricing, by selecting one of the following: "Standard", "Urgent", or "Very urgent". If neither of the options is selected, it is considered that the payment type is "Standard".

6.6. The Payer is recommended to fill in the field "Recipient's bank correspondent" if the transfer is performed to the country of the Recipient (except for the Republic of Lithuania) in a currency that is not a national currency of the country of the Recipient.

6.7. The Payment order shall be submitted by the Payer or persons appropriately authorised by the Payer.

6.8. If the transfer is performed to an account in a Member country or Switzerland, the Payer is always recommended to indicate the account number of the Recipient according to the IBAN standard and the international code of the Provider of payment services of the Recipient SWIFT (BIC).

6.9. The Payer confirms that they are aware that if funds are transferred to an account in a Member country or Switzerland and the BIC (SWIFT) code of the Provider of payment services of the Recipient or the account number of the Recipient according to the IBAN standard is not indicated in the Payment order, Paysera, at its own discretion, may refuse to execute such Payment order or execute it, but in this case allow the Intermediary bank and/or the Provider of payment services of the Recipient to charge a bigger fee. In such case, the Payer gives Paysera the right to debit the bigger fee (additional fee) charged by the Intermediary bank and/or the Provider of payment services of the Recipient from Accounts of the Payer under the procedure set forth in the General agreement concluded between the Payer and Paysera, without a separate order from the Payer.

6.10. Upon proper completion of a Payment order for a cash pickup transfer in the currency of a Member country to a Member country, in the currency of a Member country to a Foreign country or in the currency of a Foreign country, each cash pickup transfer shall be assigned a unique transaction number (cash pickup code). It shall be the responsibility of the Payer to inform the Recipient of cash pickup transfer, including the code assigned to it. The cash shall be paid out to the Recipient upon presentation of an identity document and/or fulfilment of other requirements applied on the territory of the service provider of Paysera, thus verifying the Recipient's eligibility to receive cash. When required by law, Paysera has the right to request additional information related to the transaction.
